

April 2024

Dear Friends of Camp Good News,

“and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised.” 2 Corinthians 5:15.

This past Easter I was able to speak at a small church in Casco, Maine. I spoke from Roman 6:1-23. Sharing the story of the resurrection of our Savior Jesus Christ. How we should not take our grace for granted. First, we have victory because Jesus defeated death and rose again. That He sits in heaven at the right side of God our Father. Second, we need to embrace our newness of life. We are slaves to who or what we obey. If we choose to continue in sin, we will continue in our old life. If we follow Jesus, we will grow in our new life. We do not need to follow our old sinful life, as we are new creatures in Jesus. Finally, we need to live in the power of the resurrection. As we celebrate Easter, we need to remember the incredible price Christ paid for our salvation. We need to embrace this truth with gratitude and live each day knowing Jesus paid the ultimate price and we are forgiven.

This is the message we share with the children here at Camp Good News. Yes, they are sinners, they do things that God does not approve of and because of that, they will be separated from God forever. But because Jesus came, bled, died, and rose again. They can be forgiven of those sins and spend eternity with their Savior, Jesus. This is the message we need to share with the World. Look around, the world is getting more crazy each day. We need to look towards the heavens. We have been commanded to share this message, make disciples. Who are you reaching today?

Thank you for partnering with Camp Good News to reach the children. We appreciate your generous support.

‘Til all the children hear,

Jeremy Brown,
Camp Director
